PA NEW OBSERVES

Rains of the past few days appear to have revived many of the burned out lawns around the city.

One of the driest spells experienced in July in many years was brought to a close over the weekend, with further rain yesterday adding to gardener's joy. Between June 25 and last Saturday, almost a month, less than an half an inch of rain had fallen, and things were just beginning to burn up, when the welcome rains started falling Saturday.

Several small ticks, none of them over six years of age, were having a big time at the end of the west side bus line Tuesday afternoon, picking the wild berries that are growing there, and then eating them. They were scantily clad, yet didn't mind wending their way through the bramble patch.

With the elimination of all turns at Mill and Washington streets, by the city council, it might be well to concentrate on double parkers to speed up the flow of traffic through the downtown section. Tuesday at noon, half a dozen double parkers were observed from the Diamond to East street.

In Pa. New's opinion, the honor roll situated at the corner of Croton avenue and East Brook street takes first prize for being the neatest, cleanest and well kept roll in the area. Residents of the district are continually on the job keeping the roll spic and span.

City painters got an early start this morning in painting the safety lanes for pedestrians, at the intersection of East Washington and Mercer streets. While the work was in progress, traffic was rerouted over Mercer street.

Bananas are still trickling into the local markets. Pa. New noted during his Tuesday afternoon wanderings. One drayman who was delivering some of the green fruit into a store in the Croton area, reported that it was the first that they had handled in three weeks.

According to a Croton resident, who visited the office of The News today, there is a highway department sign along the street from the Croton avenue school building, which informs motorists that they are two miles from New Castle.

Announcement of sale of The Henry Hotel on Mercer street centers attention on the fact that in former years this hotel was the center of much theatrical activity. Located across the street from the Opera House of former years, it was the stopping place of most of all the

Rescue Workers Search For More Blast Victims

Officials List 156 Casualties In Hotel Bombing In Jerusalem

BRITISH PRESS TERRORIST HUNT

JERUSALEM, July 24.—(INS)—Threats of Arab-Jewish warfare disturbed the Holy Land today as rescue workers sifted crumbled sections of the King David hotel for victims of bombings admittedly perpetrated by Irgun Zvai Leumi.

Members of that Jewish extremist organization are being hunted by flying squads of British troops scouring Jerusalem's deserted streets and probing every corner of its old walled city.

Other soldiers are stationed in strength before the central police station and the home of High Commissioner Lieut. Gen. Sir Alan Cunningham to prevent fulfillment of warnings that both places would be "blown up."

List 156 Casualties
Officials now list 156 persons killed, wounded or missing from Monday's blast. Fifty-two bodies have been uncovered already and little hope is held out that 62 others listed as missing will be found alive. Another 42 persons are wounded, some seriously.

Forecasts of open warfare between Moslems and Jews came from the Palestine Arab higher committee. (Continued on Page Two)

Death Sentence For Park Killers

Three New York Youths Are Sentenced To Die On Murder Charge

NEW YORK, July 24.—(INS)—Three young Central Park killers were sentenced today to die in the electric chair—but not for the killing of Jack Hyland, 21, army veteran, whose 18-year-old girl companion they raped.

The sentence was for the murder of Antonio Marchisella, 24, navy veteran, slain in a $6 hold-up in Queens on the night of June 8, the same night as the Central Park killing.

The sentence, pronounced by Judge Thomas Downs in Queens County Court, was mandatory after the trio's conviction last week of first degree murder without recommendation of leniency.

The killers, all veterans, received the pronouncement without emotion. They are Edward Koberski, 22, Edward Sukow, 24, all of Astoria, L. I.

A murder indictment still hangs over them in Manhattan for the Central Park crime.

Rev. Fr. F. Pirulli New Appointment

Assistant Pastor St. Vitus Church Will Leave Friday For Monessen, Pa.

Rev. Fr. Francis Pirulli, assistant pastor of St. Vitus church since December 6, 1945, has received a new appointment as assistant pastor of St. Gaetano's church, Monessen, Pa., where his uncle, Rev. Fr. Nunzio Pirulli, is pastor.

The new assignment, issued by the Most Rev. Hugh C. Boyle D. D., Bishop of the Pittsburgh diocese, becomes effective Friday, July 26.

Father Pirulli was ordained at St. Vincent's Seminary, Latrobe, Pa., on November 4, 1945, and his position here at St. Vitus church was his first appointment.

Prior to his appointment here, Father Pirulli made his home with his uncle, Rev. Fr. Nunzio Pirulli, of St. Gaetano's church, Monessen. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Pirulli, are residents of Bari, Italy.

Father Pirulli came to this country seven and a half years ago, and received his theological studies at St. Francis Seminary, Latrobe, Pa., for a year; the Brunerdalet Seminary at Canton, O., for two years, and his last four years of study and ordination took place at St. Vincent's Seminary, Latrobe, Pa.

Succeeding Fr. Pirulli at St. Vitus is the Rev. Fr. Francis Boyle, of St. Teresa's church, Uniontown, Pa. He will assist at the church services and duties.

Bolivia's Army To Support New Order

LA PAZ, Bolivia, July 24.—(INS)—Bolivia's army pledged its support to the nation's revolutionary junta today and stood by to thwart any attempt to "alter the new order."

The junta, sworn in last night, has promised to better the lot of the people; to respect the rights of capital as well as freedom of the individual; and to increase Bolivia's efforts toward inter-American collaboration.

Américo Solares, representing Bolivian teachers in the intellectual corps of revolutionaries, promised to help improve the living conditions of Bolivians as he swore loyalty to the new regime.

There was no comment from officials on reports from Arica, Chile, that backers of the slain president, Gualberto Villarroel, have arrived at the Chilean-Bolivian frontier in a flight to exile.

The army's statement of support came as officials denied reports of counter-revolutionary uprisings. Santiago reports that Bolivian tin miners had begun a march on Oruro were termed without foundation.

Villarroel's body, cut down from a lamp post where rebels had strung it up, lies now in the morgue of the La Paz general hospital.

The late president's wife and two daughters have taken shelter in the quarters of the Vatican's representative in the Bolivian capital.

Man Plunges To His Death

Man Blindfolds Self And Jumps From Tenth Floor Of Philadelphia Hotel

PHILADELPHIA, July 24.—(INS)—Stanley Debeer, 36, of Drexel Hill, plunged to his death today from the tenth floor of the Ritz-Carlton hotel in mid-Philadelphia.

Police said Debeer had blindfolded himself. They reportedly found a note in his room addressed to his wife, Helen.

A table had been placed against an open window, detectives reported, indicating that Debeer had walked on the window to his death.

His body plummeted onto busy Broad street, and narrowly missed striking Wesley Whitley of 1330 Swain street, a hotel window-washer who was emptying a bucket of water at the curb.

The death was the second by a blindfolded man from a tall Philadelphia building in two days. Yesterday Wilbur Beckel, 33, of West Philadelphia placed a hood over his head and plunged to his death from a bank building at Broad and Chestnut street—only a block from where Debeer was killed.

Orders Probe Of Disclosures On Defective Shells

WASHINGTON, July 24.—(INS)—Undersecretary of War Kenneth C. Royall, it was learned today, has ordered a "complete investigation" of defective 42 mortar shells disclosed by the Mead committee to have killed American GIs on the European front.

Royall's action was taken in the wake of testimony before the Senate committee confirming the loss of lives and showing that the shells were of a type which Dr. Henry M. Garsson, a war contractor under investigation "helped" to design.

Directs Army Check
Royall's office said the War department could not comment on the inquiry because it was "a Mead committee matter."

The War department investigation, it was disclosed, directed that the army check on any "on-the-spot reports" in which American soldiers were killed or injured, as well as:

1. Where the premature explosions occurred, and the circumstances.
2. Names of witnesses.
3. What the army did to try to trace the defective shells to their place of manufacture.

REPORT ASSASSINATION NANKING

NANKING, July 24.—(INS)—The Central News agency reported today that the secretary of the Kuomintang (Nationalist) party in Honan province has been assassinated.

The agency said the party official, Chang Yen Mou, was shot by two assailants at Kaifeng as he was enroute to his office yesterday morning.

MAN FOUND DEAD PITTSBURGH

PITTSBURGH, July 24.—(INS)—The Allegheny county coroner's office today reported that Ross Azzerella, 40, of Port Vue, was found dead yesterday in a vacant lot with a shotgun wound in his chest.

Defective Shells?

Maj. Gen. Alden Waitt, chief of the Army's chemical warfare service, testifies before the Mead-Senate investigating committee that mortar shells which Dr. Henry Garsson of the munitions empire assertedly helped design were defective and cost the lives of unnumbered GIs by premature explosion.

President To Act Promptly On O.P.A. Bill

WASHINGTON, July 24.—(INS)—The White House said today that President Truman will take prompt action on the price control measure when it reaches his desk.

The president will send a message to Congress in connection with his action. The White House, however, would not indicate whether the president will approve or again veto the bill.

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross said the president most likely will act on the measure tomorrow.

The bill passed the house late Tuesday, and senate action is expected today.

State Police To Move Thursday

State police substation which has been for several years on North Jefferson street, north of Grant street, is expected to be moved on Thursday to an apartment building at the corner of Oak and Raymond streets, it was stated today.

The state police reported that they would have the same telephone number, which is 1000.

County Assessment Figures For 1946 Show $2,341,888 Increase

County assessment totals for 1946 have been compiled in the office of the county commissioners and the results, along with the totals for 1945, are made public today.

For 1946 the total assessed valuations for county purposes, including real estate and occupation, are $69,089,594 as against $66,747,706 for 1945, an increase of $2,341,888. This increase, however, is accounted for by the increase in occupation assessments, which rose from $4,142,415 in 1945 to $6,699,910 in 1946.

Real estate assessments for 1946 are decreased by $215,607 as against 1945, the total for 1945 being $62,605,291. For 1946 they are $62,389,684.

New Castle Totals
In the city of New Castle the 1946 assessments are $55,643 less than 1945, the total for 1946 being $38,302,920 and for 1945, $38,858,563.

The decrease in assessments is found in the seventh and eighth wards, all other wards showing an increase. Ellwood City shows an increase for 1946 of $65,507 over 1945, the total for 1946 being $6,690,797 and for 1945, $6,625,290.

The total of money at interest (mortgages, stocks, bonds and money in bank accounts) shows an in-

Losses Likely In OPA Restoration

WASHINGTON, July 24.—(INS)—An OPA spokesman warned today that thousands of American businessmen may suffer financial losses when price controls are restored by enactment of the OPA extension bill.

The spokesman explained that when the new bill becomes law the agency immediately would re-impose price ceilings of June 30 on all commodities not specifically exempted from price controls.

Businessmen who have stocks of commodities they purchased at above OPA ceiling prices since the

Two Killed In Truck Crash

PITTSBURGH, July 24.—(INS)—William Rawlings, 24, and Barbara Poe, 18, both of Pittsburgh, were killed today when the truck in which they were riding crashed down a 25-foot embankment in Penn township.

Police said that Rawlings apparently lost control of the vehicle.

Convicts Will Go An Trial On September 17

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—(INS)—The trial of three federal convicts accused of slaying guard William Miller during the May 1942 Alcatraz riot, was set today for Sept. 17.

The convicts, Sam Shockey, Miran "Tex" Thompson, and Clarence Carnes, all pleaded not guilty when they appeared before Judge Louis E. Goodman at their arraignment yesterday.

Judge Goodman then set the date for the trial.

Prospective Brides Of Former GIs Are 13 And 66 Years Old

LEWISTON, Me., July 24.—(INS)—Marriage intentions were on file today by two former GIs, who selected as their mates a girl of 13 and a woman of 66.

Three months before her 14th birthday, Lucille Perreault will be married on August 5 to Armand McCrever, 21, if the marriage intentions win the approval of the county probate judge.

Permission has been given by the girl's parents. Lucille's mother became a bride at the age of 15.

The other World War II veteran, Ralph Cote, 39, filed intentions with Henrietta Caron, 66. He is a bachelor while his fiancée has been married twice previously.

Price Increases On Durable Goods Slight This Month

WASHINGTON, July 24.—(INS)—Civilian Production Administrator John D. Small said today that there has been virtually no withholding of consumer durable goods from the market during the OPA-less month of July.

Small also told newsmen that price increases of durable goods have been practically "negligible" during the period since the removal of price controls. The CPA chief said:

"Price increases were less than two per cent in the hard goods line. An amazingly large number of people in manufacturing are very much afraid of inflation and of prices going up."

"As for withholding, Small said: 'We found no evidence of withholding of hard goods during July. And, there were only one or two cases of withholding of textiles throughout the country. The amount of withholding overall is negligible.'"

Small said that he considered table model radios to be in adequate supply. In fact, he added: "Prices of these radios are getting 'soft' all over the place."

FARMER LEAVES 115 DESCENDANTS

LANCASTER, Pa., July 24.—(INS)—One hundred and fifteen descendants today survived Isaac N. Holt, 74, who died Monday on his Lancaster county farm near East Earl.

They included eight children, 84 grandchildren and 19 great-grandchildren.

KILLED BY TREE

PATTON, Pa., July 24.—(INS)—Julius Luzier, 43, a woodsman of Patton was dead today, a victim of a falling tree. The Cambria county coroner's office reported that Luzier had just cut down the tree and it toppled over on him.

Preparations Are Begun For Second Blast At Bikini

If Weather Turns Bad At Last Moment Detonation Will Be Postponed

EIGHTY-SEVEN SHIPS IN TARGET AREA

By JAMES L. KILGALLAN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ABOARD USS APPALACHIAN, Off Bikini, July 24.—The operation cross-roads task force swung into action today to complete final preparations for the world's first underwater atomic explosion tomorrow at 8:35 A. M. (1:35 P. M., today, Wed. PST).

The complex movement was started at the word of Vice Adm. W. H. P. Blandy after suitable weather conditions were forecast.

As a precaution, Blandy announced that in event the weather turns bad at the last moment, actual detonation of the bomb will be postponed at thirty-minute intervals until 11 a. m. (4 p. m. PST).

Should the weather then prevent starting on "test baker" today, Blandy added, the detonation will be postponed until July 27, Bikini time (July 26 U. S. time).

He explained the intricate instruments would have to be re-set throughout the area, making it im-

Scientists Engage In Speculation

ABOARD USS PANAMINT, Off Bikini, July 24.—Advance speculation among scientific observers was widely varied today as the zero hour for the sub-surface atomic bomb explosion approached.

With the detonation scheduled within a matter of hours, the consensus of observers aboard the USS Panamint showed that far more damage was anticipated tomorrow morning (Wednesday) afternoon U. S. time, than was wrought by the July 1 test.

Most scientists forecast major damage to the 87 ships in the target fleet in Bikini lagoon not only from the bomb detonation itself but also from the huge waves expected to churn up the waters.

Britain Frowns On Publication Of Treaty Drafts

LONDON, July 24.—(INS)—An authorized government spokesman said today that Britain is not disposed to consider favorably the suggestion of U. S. Secretary of State Byrnes for publication of the drafts of the peace treaties.

The official explained that Britain's position on the publication of the treaty drafts drawn up by the Big Four foreign ministers is predicated on the fact that there are several alternative proposals to many articles.

He said also that Britain feels the 21 nations who will participate in the Paris peace conference pending July 29 should have an ample chance to study the drafts before publication.

PULLMAN STRIKE NOTICE
CHICAGO, July 24.—(INS)—Notice of a strike which would halt the operation of Pullman sleepers and parlor cars beginning Aug. 7 at 6 p. m. today was directed to Pullman Co. officials.

Thirty-five hundred Pullman conductors would be affected by the strike call issued by the Order of Railway Conductors unless their dispute with the company over the method of paying wage raises is adjusted before Aug. 7.

Urges August 14 Be Observed As 'Victory Day'

PHILADELPHIA, July 24.—(INS)—Clyde E. Rankin, Eastern vice-commander of the American Legion, called upon all Pennsylvanians today to observe August 14th as World War II "Victory Day."

Rankin said it is the Legion's aim to make "Victory day" mean to World War II veterans what Armistice Day means to the man of World War I.

August 14th marks the capitulation of Japan after the earlier surrender of Germany and Italy.

"We should cherish the date with pride," Rankin said, "Over our accomplishments—the military victories of our fighting men and women on battlefields around the world, and the miracle production on the home front."

Marriage Cycle Of Two Brothers Completed Today

RENO, Nev., July 24.—(INS)—The saga of the twin Smith brothers (both clean-shaven) in Reno's divorce court completed a cycle today with the remarriage of Elmer J. Smith of Tulsa, Calif., and his former wife, Ethel.

The Smiths, who solemnized their first marriage in Hollywood, originally were entered on Reno's legal records when Ethel won a divorce from Elmer on March 5, 1945, on grounds of cruelty and then married his twin brother, Henry V. Smith.

The divorce proceedings were enlivened by a scuffle between the twins in which Elmer received a black eye.

During the intervening months, Elmer saw service with the armed forces in the south Pacific and Henry shipped out on an oil tanker bound for the Persian Gulf.

Henry was not in court yesterday when Ethel received her divorce—again on grounds of cruelty—but Elmer was by her side and they were remarried.

FATHER'S TRUCK KILLS SON
CHAMBERSBURG, Pa., July 24.—(INS)—Funeral services will be held tomorrow for Robert Ulrich, 10, of Fayetteville, R. D. 1, who was burned fatally when a truck he was riding in was struck by a car and overturned on a road.

The youth died yesterday at the Chambersburg hospital.

those which blunderly informed Britain it will call on Arabs to arise unless Jewish "terrorism" is quelled.

Committee members addressed their protest to British government leaders in London. They said:

Heard Denunciations

Irgun's bold announcement that its members touched off the explosions that wrecked British military headquarters in the King David hotel brought denunciations of extremist activities from both government and Zionist leaders.

Palestine officials vigorously denied they had received advance warning of the blasts, which Irgun members had been given 22 minutes before explosives were timed to go off.

Irgun's communique admitting responsibility for the bombing spoke of "Jewish soldiers who carried out their duty courageously and with self-sacrifice." It urged all Jews to "withstand political attacks against them."

Deadly Weapons Exceed A-Bombs

CAMBRIDGE, Eng., July 24.—(INS)—Sharp warning that weapons far more deadly than the atomic bomb have been developed in chemical and biological research fields was voiced today by a leading British official.

Sir John Anderson, chairman of a government committee appointed to study atomic power, said that these new weapons are "just as deadly as the atom bomb and perhaps more insidious in their effects."

During the intervening months, Elmer saw service with the armed forces in the south Pacific and Henry shipped out on an oil tanker bound for the Persian Gulf.

Henry was not in court yesterday when Ethel received her divorce—again on grounds of cruelty—but Elmer was by her side and they were remarried.

FREAK LIGHTNING STRIKE SAVES GIRL

LONE PINE, Cal., July 24.—(INS)—Miss Marian Moreland of San Francisco owes her life today to the freakish whims of lightning.

Miss Moreland was riding a horse and leading two pack mules on a mountain trail in the high Sierras when the lightning struck and killed her horse and both mules.

She was recovering today from burns on the back and left ear and a scalp laceration received when the horse toppled over.

Mrs. Galbreath Funeral
Largely attended funeral services for Mrs. Dorothy Galbreath, of New Wilmington, were conducted Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. in the New Wilmington U. P. church, Dr. J. Ralph Neale in charge, assisted by Rev. John Galbreath.

Pallbearers were Roy Burnside, Russell Williams, Norman Igo, Ross Ellis, Walter Green and Bud Anderson.

Interment was in Neshannock cemetery.

REPORT COMMUNIST Base Is Captured
NANKING, July 24.—(INS)—Minister of Information Peng Hsueh-wei today announced capture of the Communist base of Jukao, 60 miles northwest of Shanghai across the Yangtze river in northern Kiangsu Province.

However, Communists at Nanking said they had no information on the reported capture of Jukao.

Correspondents submitted a joint request to Peng for permission to travel to northern Kiangsu to check the conflicting reports, but the information minister told the news-men:

"In a short period the Communists will be cleared of that area and then you'll be able to go."

Peng said the situation in northern Kiangsu is "well in hand" but the Communist menace in the Nanking-Shanghai area can not be said to be totally removed.

CONVENTION ENDS For Police Chiefs
PITTSBURGH, July 24.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania chiefs of police convention will come to a close in Pittsburgh with the election of officers and the selection of the 1947 convention site.

Leo D. Coleman, chief investigator for the Allegheny county district attorney's office, is slated to become president of the organization.

During the three-day-meet the law enforcement officers discussed means of curbing juvenile delinquency; prevention of crime and the classification of prisoners.

Warden Stanley Asine of Western Penitentiary told the delegates that hardened criminals should be separated from first offenders through a classification center.

Ashe said that despite modernization of prison procedure the percentage of prisoners who return to prison are the same as 25 years ago—nearly 16 per cent.

SEVEN AIR BASES Have Been Set Up
HARRISBURG, July 24.—(INS)—Eleventh Air Force headquarters at Middletown announced today that seven bases have been established in the command.

Maj. Gen. Thomas J. Honeky, Jr. reported that the training bases were at Goodman Field, Kentucky; Richmond, Va.; Andrews Field, Washington, D. C.; Olmstead Field, Middletown, Pa.; Stout Field, Indianapolis, Ind.; Pittsburgh Municipal Airport No. Two, Moon Township, Allegheny County, and the Cleveland, O. Municipal Airport.

PITTSBURGH, July 24.—(INS)—Judge Blair E. Gunther refused to order a former service man to support his wife, because she made more money than her husband.

Ayers D. Gardner, 23, said he earned $38 weekly. His wife, 31, made $48. Both live in Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Gardner said she didn't want the money; that she would rather have her husband back.

Gardner said he wanted a divorce; that it has "been nothing but arguments since his return from the service."

Paul Porter warned on July 1 that the old ceilings would be reimposed upon enactment of price control legislation.

The spokesman said he was unable to estimate how large the losses of businessmen would be, but expressed belief that they had refrained to some extent from purchasing large supplies at above OPA prices.

He added:

"We think this reluctance on the part of businessmen to buy at above OPA ceilings has been one of the restraining influences on prices since controls were lifted."

large number of theatrical troupes that came to New Castle for appearances in the Opera House. The Opera House passed out years ago, and was converted into a movie theatre, then was later destroyed by fire.

Japanese beetles have been found on flowers in Water street park, it was reported today.

When the East street water fountain is installed today, all downtown fountains will have been placed.

At least one motorist is willing to agree that the meter posts in the downtown district are substantial enough. He has a dent fender to prove it. Pa New saw the car over-ride the curb and strike the post that supports the meter, leaving a large dent in the fender and scraping the paint from a good size section.

Croton avenue has become something of a speed track between East Brook street and Walnut street. Pa New saw several cars operating well over 50 miles per hour weaving in and out of traffic in the district on Tuesday afternoon. Cruiser operations in the area might curb the practice.

Property owners in the West Side area, near Smithfield street, have gone all out for renovations, it was observed on Tuesday. The entire area has been transformed, with old stores and homes being entirely remodeled, making them look like new.

SCHOOL DISTRICT
To Get Funds For Medical Checkups
Auditor General G. Harold Warner today approved payment of $306 to the New Castle city school district for medical examinations of 177 students and 27 school employees under the provisions of the School Health Act passed by the 1945 legislature.

Heart and chest diseases are common among the physical afflictions from which Pennsylvania school children are suffering, it was revealed.

A considerable portion of the funds allotted the schools is for the special examinations of children who were found to have symptoms of heart and chest conditions when the routine examination was made by the examining physician.

Says 'Pal' Left Him In Tiny Hole In Prison Wall

THOMASTON, Me., July 24.—(INS)—Officials said today that a "pal" who buried him in a tiny hole in a stone wall inside state prison 11 days ago became frightened and left Frederick Finnegan, 22, of Portland, to face slow death in the trap. Interrogation of Finnegan was continued in his close cell from death.

Serving five to 10 years for armed robbery, Finnegan dropped from sight July 13, and all attempts to locate him failed until Guard Justin Willett at 3 a. m. yesterday heard a faint tapping in the wall of the deserted plate shop. He traced it to an unused corridor far inside a wall at the end of which he found Finnegan buried under 18 inches of debris and sheet metal.

Finnegan was carried to the infirmary. He had lost nearly 15 pounds and told guards he had eaten only one box of sweet crackers and a few chocolate bars and he had no water.

Report Communist Base Is Captured

NANKING, July 24.—(INS)—Minister of Information Peng Hsueh-wei today announced capture of the Communist base of Jukao, 60 miles northwest of Shanghai across the Yangtze river in northern Kiangsu Province.

However, Communists at Nanking said they had no information on the reported capture of Jukao.

Correspondents submitted a joint request to Peng for permission to travel to northern Kiangsu to check the conflicting reports, but the information minister told the news-men:

"In a short period the Communists will be cleared of that area and then you'll be able to go."

Peng said the situation in northern Kiangsu is "well in hand" but the Communist menace in the Nanking-Shanghai area can not be said to be totally removed.

CONVENTION ENDS For Police Chiefs

PITTSBURGH, July 24.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania chiefs of police convention will come to a close in Pittsburgh with the election of officers and the selection of the 1947 convention site.

Leo D. Coleman, chief investigator for the Allegheny county district attorney's office, is slated to become president of the organization.

During the three-day-meet the law enforcement officers discussed means of curbing juvenile delinquency; prevention of crime and the classification of prisoners.

Warden Stanley Asine of Western Penitentiary told the delegates that hardened criminals should be separated from first offenders through a classification center.

Ashe said that despite modernization of prison procedure the percentage of prisoners who return to prison are the same as 25 years ago—nearly 16 per cent.

NEEDN'T SUPPORT WIFE BECAUSE SHE MAKES MOST MONEY

PITTSBURGH, July 24.—(INS)—Judge Blair E. Gunther refused to order a former service man to support his wife, because she made more money than her husband.

Ayers D. Gardner, 23, said he earned $38 weekly. His wife, 31, made $48. Both live in Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Gardner said she didn't want the money; that she would rather have her husband back.

Gardner said he wanted a divorce; that it has "been nothing but arguments since his return from the service."

LOSSES LIKELY IN O. P. A. RESTORATION

Paul Porter warned on July 1 that the old ceilings would be reimposed upon enactment of price control legislation.

The spokesman said he was unable to estimate how large the losses of businessmen would be, but expressed belief that they had refrained to some extent from purchasing large supplies at above OPA prices.

He added:

"We think this reluctance on the part of businessmen to buy at above OPA ceilings has been one of the restraining influences on prices since controls were lifted."

VFW Convention In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, July 24.—(INS)—Philadelphia closed off its welcome mat today for the 80,000 members of the Pennsylvania department, Veterans of Foreign Wars, who will attend the organization's 27th annual convention.

The encampment officially opens tomorrow, but registration was in progress today. Also on the agenda was a pre-convention banquet tonight.

Mayor Bernard Samuel, in keeping with the festivities has chosen 150 members of the V.F.W. who are on the city's police force, to be on duty at the convention.

They will be garbed in their regular uniforms, topped off by their V.F.W. overseas caps.

Prospects Improved

While Blandy was none too hopeful of the outlook, the weathermen were more optimistic and said prospects were improving constantly.

The target array of eighty-seven ships rocked silently as their moorings in the lagoon while all personnel except a few key men were evacuated from the danger area.

To press ship Appalachian and other non-target vessels moved out of the lagoon at daybreak before the mysterious, canvas-shrouded atom bomb was set in its place at an undisclosed depth below the surface of the 130-foot deep lagoon.

Seventy army and navy planes were prepared to go aloft to train their cameras on the target scene when the bomb is detonated by a complex series of radio impulses set off by Dr. Marshall Holloway, Cornell University physicist, from aboard the electronics ship Cumberland Sound.

The 34-year old Holloway, fifteen miles away from the target, will push a final button on a powerful transmitter and in exactly thirty seconds the bomb will send an estimated millions tons of water hurtling two or three miles into the air.

Hope Bill Saves New York Aquarium

NEW YORK, July 24.—(INS)—Sentimental New Yorkers hoped today for speedy passage of a bill sponsored by Rep. Sol Bloom (D) aimed at saving New York's ancient aquarium in Battery park.

Unless congress quickly adopts Bloom's plan for federal purchase of the ancient building it will be razed to make room for the entrance to the new Battery-Brooklyn vehicular tunnel.

First built as Fort Clinton in colonial times, it later became Castle Garden—where Jenny Lind sang and from 1855 to 1890 was the clearing station for eight million immigrants.

The name Berkshire (England) comes from the Anglo Saxon "Ber-rochshire," either from its abundance of berries (box-trees), or the bare-oakshire, from a polled oak common in Windsor, where the Britons used to hold meetings.

Shortage: Don't become alarmed but the Treasury Department has just reported a shortage. The circulation of $10,000 bills has taken a sharp decrease.

Wike Sisters Wed In Double Church Ceremony

Solemnized to the strains of "O, Promise Me" the Wike sisters, Ruth and Martha, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Wike, of R. D. 1, Enon Valley, became the brides of Hubert Gleghorn and Clair McClymonds, respectively, sons of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Gleghorn, R. D. 7, and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McClymonds, R. D. 6, at the Bethel U. P. church on Tuesday evening.

Rev. Marshall Wilson officiated at the double ring service for both young couples.

Preceding the ceremony, appropriate nuptial music was played at the piano by Mary McBride and Richard Engle, soloist, sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly."

For her wedding, Ruth chose a yellow nylon street-length dress and Martha chose an aqua sheer street-length dress; with both of the brides wearing corsages of white roses and carrying white Bibles, gifts of their sister, Mrs. Leland Barker. They also wore identical strands of pearls which were gifts of the groom.

Miss Olive Wright, who served as maid of honor for Ruth, wore a blue dress and had a corsage of red roses and Miss Eunice Williams, maid of honor for Martha, wore a dress of fuchsia and a corsage of yellow roses.

Lester Hodge and Weller McClymonds served Hubert Gleghorn and Clair McClymonds, respectively, as best men with William Pitts and Arthur Williams as ushers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home, where a dainty luncheon was served to the guests by Mrs. Mable Barker, Miss Marie Gleghorn and Miss Aileen McClain.

Mr. and Mrs. Gleghorn left for a wedding trip to Luray Caverns and points south and on return will be at home to their friends at their newly furnished apartment at Enon Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. McClymonds are honeymooning at Niagara Falls and will be at home to friends at their newly furnished apartment at Rose Point.

The brides are graduates of Union high school and were employed at the Shenango Pottery. The grooms have been recently discharged from the Army. Mr. Gleghorn is employed at the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Mill and Mr. McClymonds is employed at the National Tube plant in Ellwood City.

Out-of-town guests were Misses Frances and Elizabeth Eichler, Perropolis, Pa., Mrs. Gilbert Martin, Star Junction, Pa., and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Eichler and family of Chicago, Ill.

JANCE-BURD CEREMONY QUIET

At a ceremony solemnized in the parsonage of Center U. P. church, Miss Eugenia Jance, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Jance, of R. D. 1, became the bride of Herbert Burd of Uniontown on Sunday, July 14.

Rev. B. M. Wallace officiated at one o'clock in the afternoon.

The bride wore a wedding gown of white marquisette, a fingertip veil, and carried white roses and carnations. Her sister, Miss Helen Jance, as maid of honor, wore light blue taffeta and carried pink carnations and roses.

Following the ceremony a reception and dinner for a number of out-of-town guests and neighbors was served at the home of the bride's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Burd have taken up residence in Uniontown where he is engaged in the grocery business.

EAST BROOK CLUB LUNCHEON EVENT

East Brook Garden club members were entertained Tuesday afternoon at one o'clock at a sandwich luncheon in the home of Mrs. Harold Walton of the Wilmington road.

Mrs. Charles Black who was in charge of the program presented an instructive paper on the subject, "Tribute to the Laurels."

Roll call was "Mary, Mary, quite contrary, how does your garden grow?" which was answered by each member telling about her garden.

Mrs. Lyle Hughes, a special guest, and Mrs. M. M. Ingham both pleased with groups of beautiful piano selections.

The hostess was aided in serving by Mrs. W. R. Walton and Mrs. Ingham.

The August meeting will be in the form of a basket picnic at the home of Mrs. Harold Allen, Stoneboro.

FRANK CUSH WEDS ILLINOIS GIRL

Miss Martha Carter of Itasca, Ill., and Frank Cushi, 1025 Croton avenue, were united in marriage on Saturday, July 20, Rev. Charles F. Durbin officiated at the double ring ceremony at his home in Chewton.

Mrs. Myra L. Carter of Evanston, Ill., and Mrs. Lucille Rubels of New Castle attended the bride.

John Rubels served the groom as best man.

The bridal party left by a northern route to California and will take up residence in Monterey, Cal., where the groom will be employed.

Mrs. Cushi has been a principal in the schools of Itasca, Ill., and the groom has been discharged from the army after serving two years in the South Pacific theater of operations.

Enjoy Chicken Dinner Mr. and Mrs. Gerald M. Copper, R. D. 6, entertained a group of friends in their home on Monday evening in honor of the birthdays of Edmond Gumienny and Ralph Cooper Jr. The dinner was served on the lawn at a table centered with a large birthday cake.

The evening was spent informally and playing games.

Little Flower Club Little Flower club members will assemble in St. Mary's hall Friday evening, July 26, at 8 o'clock, when Miss Annette Holliday and Mrs. T. J. Dougherty will be hostesses.

OPEN HOUSE HONORS ENS. AND MRS. MAGEE

Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Magee, 218 East Falls street, held open house in their home in honor of their son, Ens. William M. Magee, U.S.N.R., of Jacksonville, Fla., with Mrs. Magee being the guest of honor.

About one hundred friends, relatives and neighbors gathered for the occasion on Tuesday evening and enjoyed an evening of reminiscing and chatting. The house was beautifully decorated with flowers and at an appointed time the hostess served a delicious luncheon carried out in the navy colors, blue and gold. She was assisted by her sister, Mrs. E. R. Tait, of Pulaski, Miss Angeline Tait of Clairton, and Mrs. Bert Magee, Mrs. Helen Moxley of Pittsburgh was a special guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Magee received many lovely gifts in memory of the occasion. They will spend a few days at Kittanning, the home of Mrs. Magee and then proceed to San Diego, Calif., where Ens. Magee will report for duty.

WASHINGTON CALLING

by MARQUIS CHILD'S

New Labor Management Conference Proposal

WASHINGTON, July 24.—Last Fall, President Truman called a labor-management conference. About all that it produced was words—bitter words, angry words. Now a group of Americans of widely differing interests have asked the president to call another labor-management conference.

These men and women, all of whom might be classed as liberals, are appealing to the president because they believe a new labor crisis is just around the corner. And what is more, they fear that another conference on the slugging-it-out level with final intervention by the government, would seriously endanger our democracy.

Many in the group have helped to work out an orderly system of collective bargaining in this country. Men such as Frank P. Graham, president of the University of North Carolina, and Morris L. Cooke, the industrial engineer, have been active participants in the evolutionary process intended to put labor relations on a stable, democratic basis. Others, such as Stuart Chase, the writer, have long championed a free, independent trade-union government.

Dangerous Drift
But now they see a dangerous drift toward absolute control by law of the whole process of collective bargaining. What they say is so significant that it should make every member of a trade union and every employer stop, look, and listen.

"Some rulers and some employers have failed to see recent industrial conditions accurately, and to assess accurately their new position in the community and in the nation. When labor was only meagerly organized, and principally on a local basis, a strike by one community or a national calamity. But with 15,000,000 organized workers in every basic industry and also in law materials industry, a strike can become a national disaster. There is something morally repugnant when a handful of a few hundred employers can threaten starvation to a great city, or paralysis to a national industry. Only a momentous issue, and not a few cents difference in hourly pay, could justify the use of such a weapon.

Fertile Way
"On the other hand, to seek to regulate the conduct of a great segment of the nation by legislation, when that legislation is distorted by hostile lawmakers, is a little way to get conformity. It is more evident when nothing is being done to curb the strikes of management—the refusal of makers of men's suits to put goods on the market or the refusal of corporations to accept arbitration or impartial adjudication without an assurance of higher prices. It is not just to seek to regulate labor without in turn regulating management by law."

As a cardinal necessity for successful collective bargaining, life appeal addressed to the president stresses well-tried team play between labor, management and other economic groups. Instead, they say, "Class warfare is being substituted for team play."

The question in the minds of many thoughtful men who could be so meagrely called labor-baiters is: How far do the unions intend to go in organizing and controlling the life of this nation?

Step Questionable
Adm. Ben Morell, acting for the government, has just signed an agreement with the United Mine Workers covering nine foremen and supervisors of the Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation. Before he took that step, Morell would have done well to read the dissenting opinion of Chief Justice Brandeis in the Board of the National Labor Relations Board on this issue of unionizing foremen.

On the west coast, the CIO has chartered a union of fishermen who have their own boats and are self-employed. They are reported to have thrown picked lines around shops, buying fish from other sources or bringing in fish from the outside. This would certainly seem to be beyond the bounds of legitimate unionism.

Within the CIO, left-wingers would like to go to town with new wage demands and new strikes. But more conservative leaders, including Philip Morris himself, are reluctant. The United Auto Workers suffered severe losses, both collectively and individually, in the 113-day General Motors strike. Sentiment in the AFL is overwhelmingly against another struggle.

One of the handicaps of the labor-management conference last fall was that its scope was so narrow. If a new conference could be empowered to consider prices, wages, all the circumstances connected with collective bargaining, it's just possible that some lasting good might come out of it. Anything would be better than the present dangerous drift.

Rep. May has agreed to appear before the Mead committee to explain how he got into a conga line.

A picture of May congratulating a bride got into the papers and not every congressman who ever kissed a baby is expecting a summons.

We have a very polite note from Mrs. Sun Yat Sen reading "Thank you so much for the guns but you're overdoing it."

This is our first invitation to withdraw from the internal affairs of a nation but we still have quite a few invitations to intervene.

Any one of them should pay off as well as our good intentions in China.

Who would ever think that in such a short time Sun Yat Sen's widow would be repeating, for a different reason, the advice which Tokyo originally gave Washington: "Stay out of China."

But there is this much about it . . . If we do withdraw from China there are other places we can go and be just as unwelcome in six months. I'll look up the maps.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

You and I and all of us are asking ourselves a question these days: "What is wrong with America?"

I know it, because whenever I go I hear that question discussed. It isn't the war, it isn't the OPA, it isn't Truman, it isn't Roosevelt. It goes deeper than that. Much deeper.

Canon Bernard Iddings Bell expressed it in a sermon at Trinity Church, New York.

"The fault is not in our economic system, nor in our international political system, but in ourselves," he said.

"We live not for the end we were made for, but for lesser and subhuman ends."

"Consume possessions, pleasures and power in a stinking brew and you have the wretched motivation of the modern man."

That's what is wrong with America.

A stinking brew of lust for power, pleasures and possessions. You see it wherever you go.

You see it in the nightclubs and the salacious shows.

You see it in the jeweler's windows and fur shops.

You see it in the gleaming eyes of politicians and money-chasers.

A few days ago I was in Philadelphia.

I had a half hour to spare and I was in the neighborhood of Independence Hall. I went in.

And as I went through this simple, beautiful building I saw George Washington and Thomas Jefferson and Abraham Lincoln.

I saw the America of yesterday when men and women had dreams and ideals. I saw the pioneers of bygone days fighting and stinging and saving and trusting in God.

I saw homes in which parents were honored and school in which teachers were true to their trust.

I saw churches in which men and women worshipped in faith rather than fun and diamonds.

I saw men and women and children saving their prayers before the altar, not asking God for riches and power, but thanking Him for their daily bread.

What is wrong with America? You and I and all of us with our stinking brew made up of lust for possessions, pleasures and power.

If you can't get to Independence Hall, read up on your history. And remember. Copyright, 1946, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Bible Thought

For he that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting.—Galatians 6:7.

The State Police Say:—

Consideration for others requires that a driver recognize curves as places where driving is most difficult and involved. You must be especially careful on curves not to infringe upon the rights of others, either by getting over onto their side of the road or by stopping on the curve and compelling the driver following you to stop or pass on the dangerous left side of the road. A driver on the wrong side of a curve is clearly where he has no right to be.

THAT under such circumstances, the free enterprise system could reach the large employment and production figures now revealed is an extraordinary achievement. It shows what could be done if government's hand were removed, and a sensible and just national labor-management policy enacted into law. At this time business men are far more anxious to avoid inflation than the radicals who are pre-empting it. To this end they urge that everything possible be done to encourage employment and production; that a long-range program of financial and economic reform be adopted.

IN addition they want Federal expenses pruned to the bone; the Federal budget balanced as soon as possible; the Government to stop expanding credit and currency, in brief, to get back to fiscal sanity and safety. They are the kind of program the business interests want now to avert inflation. And it is exactly the kind of program Mr. Chester Bowles is strongly urging—now he is out of the OPA. But is it the kind of program that Wallace school of prophets, now warners of the awful consequences of inflation, will help out through? It is exactly the kind they will not help to forward at all. (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate)

Remember . . . sure you do . . . when butter was something the OPA controlled . . . the ceiling price on June 30, 1946 was 67 cents . . . and you couldn't buy it unless you invited the butcher out to dinner and presented his wife with a pair of nylon hose. Today you can buy butter for what's the price? Monday we carried an advertisement that stated 77 cents. But today you can buy butter . . . and all you want. But that isn't exactly the point that we want to make when the OPA controlled the price of butter at 67 cents did you know that the subsidy on that butter was 14¢ cents per pound.

Who pays the 14¢ cents? . . . you do. It's added to the United States National Debt. Someday this debt will be paid off . . . out taxes are high now in time of peace . . . how much higher will they go to help pay for that pound of butter that you entertained the butcher to get. When the OPA took a rest there was no subsidy paid.

Round steak . . . the ceiling was 41 cents . . . with 9 cents subsidy . . . Pork chops ceiling was 37¢ cents with an 8 cent subsidy. The American housewife was not paying her entire food bill . . . she charged part of it to the Federal Government. What we want in this nation is to know that when we pay our grocery bill . . . that it's paid and that we won't have to pay for it again through taxes.

OPA will not keep us from going into a much bigger inflation . . . In May 1919 without OPA in the center of our nation Indianapolis round steak was advertised for 30 cents per pound . . . In May 1946 the ceiling price with subsidy was costing the housewife 50 cents per pound. The law of supply and demand will help settle our troubles and without our children and their children paying for the subsidy in high taxes.

Don't ask questions if your child's friends are engaged in a big breads. You may think you are being sympathetic, but if you analyze your feelings, you may find it is just curiosity.

Some Prophecies Of Past And Present

WASHINGTON, July 24.—PERSONS who make a business of prophesying are bound to strike it right sometime. They can't always be wrong. Therefore it is possible that the predictions now coming from the "left" journals of the Henry Wallace type, then left-wing labor friends and the propaganda organs of the Communist party may turn out to be well founded.

BY reason of the failure of Congress to restore price controls in their original drastic OPA form a series of dreadful things are being forecast. A runaway inflation is to occur. Prices, uncontrolled by anything save the old and outmoded law of supply and demand, will rise to the sky. Wages, after another epidemic of strikes, will follow. Terrifying threats by the professional labor bosses are already being made. Finally, there will be a frightful collapse the country will be plunged into economic chaos and the free enterprise system irretrievably wrecked.

THAT is the general notion conveyed by the radical press and politicians who without intending to do so, manage also to convey the idea that that is exactly what they want and that they will be deeply disappointed if it does not happen. And, be lieve it, it will. Certainly, to any clear eye the immediate prospect is none too pleasing. Nevertheless, it is worth while to recall the prophecies of this same group hardly more than a year ago just to show that they were so completely wrong that one would think they would hesitate to prophesy for a year or two anyway.

AT that time they did not promise inflation; what they promised was deflation with equally horrid consequences. It was agreed that we would have between eight and ten million unemployed, that veterans would be selling apples in the streets by the Spring of 1946. The only way we were told by Mr. Wallace and others, to avert this direful unemployment and dire distress was to embark upon a vast and costly public works program to be carried out under the so-called "full employment" bill. All this and more was explained in Mr. Wallace's book, "Sixty Million Jobs," and was echoed in, and elaborated upon, in every left-wing publication in the land. And also mouthed by every left-wing New Deal spokesman in Congress.

IF WE did what Mr. Wallace and his friends advised, we would have decided to create 60,000 jobs. Mr. Wallace's exact figure, between 50,000,000 and 75,000,000 in 1950. Well, we did not follow Mr. Wallace. Congress passed his full employment bill in so engrossed a form that it became a general joke—and Mr. Truman has not yet appointed the operating commission to carry out the program. No great public works program, such as he and his labor leaders suggested, was adopted. Yet the free enterprise system, according to the latest Census Bureau report, has created 56,749,000 by July 1 of this year. Instead of eight to ten million unemployed, there is an actual labor shortage and the number of officially unemployed is only 2,500,000. In what way, we conclude, a great many who cannot work and many more who will not work—not right away, anyway.

IN fact Mr. Wallace's goal of 56 to 75 million jobs in 1950 has been reached four years ahead of his schedule and without any of the expenditures, conditions, governmental management or legislation which he said were essential. This, it would seem, speaks pretty well for the free enterprise system—particularly in that it had to operate against a not too well administered Price Control Act under the severe handicap of hundreds of unnecessary strikes which interfered with production and threatened from time to time to stall the industrial engine completely.

THAT under such circumstances, the free enterprise system could reach the large employment and production figures now revealed is an extraordinary achievement. It shows what could be done if government's hand were removed, and a sensible and just national labor-management policy enacted into law. At this time business men are far more anxious to avoid inflation than the radicals who are pre-empting it. To this end they urge that everything possible be done to encourage employment and production; that a long-range program of financial and economic reform be adopted.

They are the kind of program the business interests want now to avert inflation. And it is exactly the kind of program Mr. Chester Bowles is strongly urging—now he is out of the OPA. But is it the kind of program that Wallace school of prophets, now warners of the awful consequences of inflation, will help out through? It is exactly the kind they will not help to forward at all. RHODENDRONS Rhododendrons seem to me As if homestead they must be; As if all man's care and toil Can't replace their native soil. Or conditions east or west. Under which they flourish best.

Lovely though their bloom appears, I have watched them down the years Strangely sicken, pine and die. Underneath an alien sky— Wasting something, branch and root. Strangers cannot substitute.

Beautiful at home are there; Rich with leaf and blossom gay. Stout of heart, but made to roam— Forced to live afar from home— Rhododendrons look to me As if lonely they must be. (Copyright, 1946, Edgar A. Guest)

(No. 12)

THE CONSTITUTION ITSELF

The Preamble of the original Constitution was as follows:

We the people of the United States, in Order to form a more perfect Union, establish Justice, insure domestic Tranquillity, provide for the common defense, promote the general Welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to ourselves and to our Posterity, do ordain and establish this CONSTITUTION of the United States of America.

The Congress of the United States, by reason of that Preamble has enacted many laws which they were not forbidden to enact, but which they claimed authority from the wording of that Preamble. For instance, The Act providing for the tax imposed upon the citizens of the United States for the purpose of Social Security was adopted because it "promoted the general Welfare."

ARTICLE I

This Article provides for the legislative powers of the Senate and House of Representatives.

Section 1. All legislative Powers herein granted shall be vested in a Congress of the United States, which shall consist of a Senate and a House of Representatives.

Section 2. The House of Representatives shall be composed of Members chosen every second Year by the people of the several States, and the Electors in the most numerous Branch of the State Legislature.

No Person shall be a Representative who shall not have attained to the Age of twenty-five Years, and been seven Years a Citizen of the United States, and who shall, when elected, be an Inhabitant of that State in which he shall be chosen.

Representatives and direct Taxes shall be apportioned among the several States which may be included within this Union, according to their respective Numbers, which shall be determined by adding to the whole Number of free Persons, including those bound to Service for a Term of Years, and excluding Indians not taxed, three-fifths of all other Persons. The actual enumeration shall be made within three Years after the first Meeting of the Congress of the United States, and within every subsequent Term of ten Years, in such Manner as they shall direct. The Number of Representatives shall not exceed one for every thirty Thousand, but each State shall have at least one Representative; and until such enumeration shall be made, the State of New Hampshire shall be entitled to three, Massachusetts eight, Rhode Island and Providence Plantations one, Connecticut five, New York six, New Jersey four, Pennsylvania eight, Delaware one, Maryland six, Virginia ten, North Carolina five, South Carolina five, and Georgia three.

When vacancies happen in the Representation from any State, the Executive Authority thereof shall issue Writ of Election to fill such Vacancies.

The House of Representatives shall choose their Speaker and other Officers; and shall have the sole Power of Impeachment.

It will be noted that in determining the Representatives and direct taxes that they "shall be apportioned among the several States" and shall be according to their respective numbers, this shall be determined by adding to the whole number of free persons, including those bound to service for a term of years, and excluding Indians not taxed, three-fifths of all other persons.

It would seem that a Negro slave was figured as three-fifths of a citizen. He did not have a vote, but in the slaves States up until the time of the Civil War, it added considerably to the number of Representatives to which these States were entitled.

It also provided that there should be a census taken every ten years, which has been done, but "the number of Representatives shall not exceed one for every thirty thousand." There was a re-apportionment from time to time made by Congress, but there has been only one re-apportionment since the 62nd Congress—thirty-four years ago. There has been great agitation for another re-apportionment. The present House consists of Four Hundred Thirty-five Representatives, while thirty-four years ago it had only 360.

The Parent Problem

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph. D.

TAMING SPOILED FOSTER CHILD

It is amazing what a calm, skillful mother can do at taming a spoiled tot. Let me relay to you the following case.

"Dear Dr. Myers: Psychology has always interested me immensely and at the present time I am in dire need of much wisdom and understanding concerning the rearing of children.

I am the busy mother of three boys and one girl, 14, 8, 3½, and 2. Four months ago another one was added to our household, a war baby whose father is still in the army, and whose mother works in a factory.

Nervous Disposition

Patrick of 22 months old. He is of a nervous, high-strung disposition and is never still a minute. He upset me considerably at first as he was so jittery. It was difficult to feed him as he turned his head constantly in order to see everything that might be going on. If there ever was a natural born introvert, he's one! I immediately taught him to feed himself as it seemed to steady him a little and give him something to do.

"His mother is an unstable, high-strung mite, works when her money is all gone, gads around constantly, will not live at home nor take care of her child (although she likes him in her own way, and pays for his support), and has regular tantrums in Patrick's presence in her parents' home. She stamped his feet (readily when he first came, but that never occurs now).

Adult Surroundings

Patrick had lived with adults only till he came to our home, consequently he didn't know how to play with children nor how to play with toys. Some days he would be fussy, especially if he had been at the grandparents' the day before. He had been carried all day, rocked all night, and some one always lay down with him till he went to sleep.

"He would cry and cling to the one who would give him the most attention even if it was a perfect stranger. This puzzled me. If I was decently nice to him he would cling to my dress, cry, have a regular tantrum, stamp his feet, destined to be held, rocked and, at bedtime held cry. If I practically ignored him and gave him the necessary routine care, he was much better and would never shed a tear at bedtime. It was the first time he had ever slept in a bed alone.

"Such drastic changes for one so young! But I couldn't rock him and hold him. I was too busy and I never thought of spoiling even my own son. He was fair to the child. He has changed greatly in the four months I have had him, is growing up nicely and has gotten so chubby, sleeps 15-17 hours every day, but I am wondering if he is better off.

staying here or should I put him in a childless home?

"He was so very rough to my children at first. He'd pull their hair, hit them with hard objects, take their playthings, and we had a difficult time teaching him not to be so rough and to play with toys. The children did not retaliate for some time. Now they gang up on him and make him do as they wish."

I wrote her urging her to keep that tot, if she can stand it, commending her on her marvelous achievements, and pointing out that if she can guide those older children to be kind to him, read to him and make things with him they can do him much good and gain much therefrom themselves.

As a rule, a foster child gains more in a family of growing children than in a childless home.

Book On Development Of County Transportation Prized Library Possession

An almost collectors' item, at the New Castle Library, is a volume titled "History of the Development of Transportation in Lawrence County." It is a printed and bound book, the facts were compiled by George W. Johnson, prior to World War I, at the request of the Lawrence County Historical Society.

Printed in 1916, the material refers back to the time when New Castle was an Indian village by the name of "Old Kuskuskis." The name, as noted by the author, was the bases for much contravallation.

The historian covers transportation by foot over Indian trails, by canoe on the waters of the Shenango, Mahoning and Beaver rivers, on barge through the canals of Lawrence county and by train over the numerous railroads of the district.

The book tells of a railroad listed as the New Castle and Northern railroad. It was to be built from Washington street in New Castle, to West Middlesex. Starting in 1883, the road-bed was built and part of the ties were laid, but no rails were put down. The company ran into financial trouble at that time.

The book writer did not know when the first stage coach went through this district, but he found that in 1836, Joseph T. Boyd, postmaster, announced the arrival and departure of mails by coach.

The book, given to the library in 1922, is the only known copy in existence. The first having been destroyed for some unknown reason. It is kept in the vault at the library.

Nurses Needed At Aspinwall Hospital

Attractive Entrance Salary Offered
Staff Nurses In Government Hospitals

PITTSBURGH, July 24.—There is an acute need for nurses at the Veterans Administration hospital at Aspinwall, it was revealed today by Mrs. Martha McCrary, chief of the VA's nursing service for Branch Office No. 3, Philadelphia.

The Aspinwall hospital near Pittsburgh especially needs nurses with experience in operating room technique. Mrs. McCrary said, but the increasing number of veterans requiring hospitalization in this area makes the recruitment of all qualified nurses of major importance.

Former Army and Navy nurses are being sought, but military service is not a prerequisite for appointment, it was explained. Nurses wishing to serve at Aspinwall or other VA hospitals in the tri-state area of Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware are urged to make application directly to the nursing service VA Branch Office No. 3, at 128 North Broad street, Philadelphia 2.

Staff nurses in VA hospitals receive an entrance salary of $2,644.80 per annum.

Among notable and interesting inventions patented during the year 1945 were anti-knock motor fuels produced through the addition of compounds of heavy metals other than lead.

Mrs. Jean Richards Heads Deshon Nurses

PITTSBURGH, July 24.—The appointment of Mrs. Jean Richards, of Washington, Pa., as acting chief nurse for the Veterans Administration's newly acquired Deshon hospital has been announced by Mrs. Martha McCrary, chief of the nursing service, VA Branch Office No. 3, Philadelphia. Mrs. Richards reported for duty at Deshon Monday.

A graduate of Oberlin College, Ohio, Mrs. Richards is a former member of the Army Nurses Corps and spent three years in the military service. She served at Camp Pickett, Va., in 1943 and 1944 and was director of cadet nurses at Deshon from February, 1944 to November, 1945, when it was an Army Hospital.

LETTERS TO THE NEWS

(Letters intended for this column must be signed with name and address of writer.)

O. P. A. AND SUBSIDIES

The Editor,
New Castle News,
New Castle, Pa.
Dear Editor:

It is certainly a pity that someone who understands the complicated system of subsidies should not explain them in a series of articles for the enlightenment of the general public.

The foxy New Dealers removed subsidies from dairy products and other commodities at just about the time OPA expired. Not only was there a 24c subsidy (removed in two parts) on butter, but another "hidden" cost due to the subsidy on the milk from which it was made.

Inevitably, when subsidies were removed, prices soared. When the first part of the butter subsidy was removed, OPA "allowed" an increase in price covering the subsidy. But when the last 13c came off OPA was not functioning, so the perfectly natural jump in price was blamed on the fact that OPA had lost control. That was exactly the way it had been planned!

Subsidies have always seemed to me like trying to raise yourself by your own bootstraps, but, in this case, with an additional load of stones in the boots! For the salaries and maintenance of bureaus necessary for carrying on the system, adds enormously to the burdens of the taxpayers.

Very few dealers have taken advantage of the cessation of OPA restrictions (OPA officials to the contrary notwithstanding) to raise prices beyond the amount necessary for a normal profit. Nevertheless, it seems we are again to be saddled with price controls. And the heyday of the black market operators will begin all over again! Once more there will be scarcities and restrictions, while huge quantities of hoarded food which will not be "released", spoils.

Why don't the people wake up and try to understand what is being put over on them? If they would,

America might once more become the "free country" it used to be, instead of the dictatorship it now is!

Incidentally, if we must have an OPA, why not a subsidy for the landlords whose rents were "frozen" at depression levels? Now there's a thought for you!

Yours truly,
LAURA TUCKER McALLISTER,

Questioning Of Suspected Slayer Delayed For Time

Police Allow Suspect In Dual Murder Time To Regain Health
Before Resuming Probe

NORRISTOWN, Pa., July 24.—(INS)—Authorities abandoned further questioning today of Kenneth W. Hanley, ex-GI suspected slayer of his wife and her escort, until he regains the health he lost during a week of existing like a hunted animal in a woods.

The 25-year-old suspect, nagged from his experience and delirious at times, lay between clean sheets at the Montgomery hospital in Norristown following his arrest at the home of his mother.

Officials quoted one of his cohererent statements as being: "I remember firing three or four shots at my wife and another man in the car, but I don't know what happened after that."

The shots were fired July 16, on a lonely road near Norristown. Hanley's attractive blonde wife, Helen, 22, was killed instantly. Her escort, John R. Hoffman, 27, died a few hours later on an operating table, after telling police:

"Ken did it, he's Helen's husband."

Hanley also was reported to have given police an 11-page statement in which he maintained that his wife was still alive.

"She's still alive," he was quoted as saying. "The only reason I followed the car was to shoot Winnie. I didn't shoot at my wife."

"Winnie," police said, was the nick-name for a man who had been dating Hanley's estranged wife.

Hanley's family hired Attorney James R. Calio, of Norristown, to handle his case, and the lawyer declared that the veteran would make no further statements to anyone until he regained his health.

Former Resident Dies In Alliance

Funeral services for Harry B. Bush, former resident who died on July 17, at the home of his sister, Mrs. Savilla Means, Alliance, O., were conducted last Friday in Alliance, O. The body was then sent to Johnstown, Pa., where further services were held Saturday at 2:30 p. m., Rev. Ernest Weals, of the Franklin street Methodist church in charge of the picking and interment.

Mr. Bush was 76 years of age and was salesman for the Procter and Gamble company. He was born in Piquette, Ohio, son of Phillip and Sarah Glazier Bush. His wife, Carolyn Fruit Bush, died March 7, 1943. She was former teacher in this city.

His sister, Mrs. Means survives, two brothers, Clark Bush, Pittsburgh, and George Bush, Springfield, O.; a niece, Mrs. Violet Thomas of Alliance.

Approximately 165,000 people in the United States were victims of cancer in 1944.

Local Woman's Aunt Is Killed In Blast

Mrs. Harry Allison Of Washington,
Pa., Meets Death As Refrigerator Explodes

Mrs. Alfred Pearson, of the Old Plank road, R. D. 5, received the sad message late Tuesday night, that her aunt, Mrs. Harry Allison, of Washington, Pa., had been instantly killed, and her uncle critically injured, in the explosion of a refrigerator in the Allison home at Washington, Pa. A son, Elwyn Allison, less seriously injured, is also in the Washington, Pa., hospital undergoing treatment.

Fire followed the explosion, setting fire to the Allison home, it was learned by Mrs. Pearson, who immediately got in communication with Mrs. Harry Allison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allison, following receipt of the message.

The original explosion, and fumes which escaped from the wrecked refrigerator, are said to have caused Mrs. Allison's death.

Funeral services will take place this afternoon, with burial in the Washington, Pa., cemetery.

Members of the Allison family are known here, through visits to the Pearson home.

Sgt. Johnny Dean Here On Short Leave

Saw Action In Pacific Theatre Of War; Re-Enlists In Marines
For Four Years

Local, ex-fighter and present day Marine, sergeant-major, Johnny Dean is home on a short leave. He is visiting with his mother, Mrs. K. L. Lyon, 7 West Moody avenue.

Sergeant-major Dean has just finished a tour of duty at Great Lakes Naval Training Station, where he was in charge of recruit trainees for the Marines. While at Great Lakes, he received the Silver Star decoration for meritorious achievement on Iwo Jima.

Attached to the 5th Marine Division in the Pacific Theater of Operations, Dean saw duty at Hilo, Hawaii; Guam; Iwo Jima; Saipan; Japan; and Okinawa. While on Iwo Jima, he refused a second leave of absence offered him for outstanding duty there.

Having spent 12 years in the Marine Corps, he has signed for another hitch of 4 years. He is to resume duty at Camp McAllister, Okla., where he will be sergeant-major of the guard battalion.

"I'll never box again," said the "Fighter Marine" when asked about his boxing career. Johnny figures that he is too old and a little too heavy to box any more, although he boxed a few exhibitions on transports while traveling with the Marines.

Philadelphia

Man And Woman Shot To Death

PHILADELPHIA, July 24.—(INS)—A man and a woman were found shot to death today—each with a bullet through the heart—in a southwest Philadelphia home.

The victims were identified by police as Mrs. Margaret Tobbs, 37-year-old mother of five, and Russell F. Schaffstall, 32.

Detectives believed that the case might have been one of murder and suicide. Mrs. Tobbs' body was found sprawled across the kitchen floor. A bullet had entered her body beneath her arm and apparently struck her heart, according to police.

Fort Wayne, Ind., People Watch Local Steeplejack Work

Even as far west as Fort Wayne, Ind., Carl Becker, local steeplejack, is found following his everyday pursuit, while amazed spectators on the ground below watch as he nim-bly climbs over church spires and flagpoles just as easily as if he were on the ground.

In a picture carried by a Fort Wayne paper, Becker is found high atop the tower of the Emmanuel Lutheran church of that city placing a six foot eight inch cross at the summit of the tower, which he later covered with a sheet of 22 carat gold. Becker recently removed a historic tree that was growing in the tower of the Court House of Fort Wayne.

Coroner's Jury Absolves White

Fails To Name White As Driver Of Auto Causing Deaths Of Newlyweds

SAN DIEGO, Cal., July 24.—(INS)—Stage producer George White, 52, today stood absolved by a coroner's jury of blame for the traffic deaths of a newlywed couple Saturday night on the highway north of San Diego.

The jury of seven men and one woman failed to name White as the driver of the car that killed the hitchhiking couple and further held there was not sufficient evidence produced to prove the driver criminally negligent.

White, famed as the producer of "The Scandals", faces preliminary trial July 31 on two counts of manslaughter and one count of felony hit-run driving in connection with the deaths of Claude McLester Lee, 42, and his 18-year-old bride, Ann Osborne Lee.

The couple was struck by a car near Solano Beach as they returned from an elopement at Tijuana, Mexico, to their Santa Ana home.

White, who is staying at a Beverly Hills hotel, denied it was his car that hit the couple.

State Health Officer Reports On Polio Cases

Says Conditions Soon To Determine Possibilities Of Any Polio Epidemic

HARRISBURG, July 24.—(INS)—Deputy Health Secretary J. Moore Campbell said today that 42 cases of infantile paralysis have been reported since Jan. 1 compared with 39 in a similar period last year.

Campbell explained that 12 cases of poliomyelitis have been listed this month.

Usually, he pointed out, state health officials can determine by the third week in July whether Pennsylvania will have a polio epidemic.

"We will have to wait for a week or two to see if this year is going to stick to the pattern set last year or if it will break for the better," Campbell said.

Last year, 747 cases of the disease were reported in the commonwealth.

"We still have our fingers crossed," he added, "and are hoping for a good year."

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has warned the nation that the incidence of polio has increased 54.6 per cent over a comparable period in 1945.

Two years ago, 1,478 persons were stricken with polio, the worst year since 1916 when more than 1,800 persons were afflicted.

SOME WEDDING PROBLEMS

"I am about to marry and have so many problems I wondered if you would entangle them for me. The wedding must be simple and inexpensive but a church ceremony, nonetheless. I am 32 and consequently will not dress in bridal white. What else, then, do you suggest? Must I wear gloves and a hat? My parents in a town 30 miles from where I live and teach school. Who should announce my engagement? How many attendants may I have? What kind of invitations might I send to out-of-town friends? To whom should announcements be sent? We will have a double ring ceremony. Must I buy my fiancée's ring?"

Answer: Even though you are 32, you may dress in bridal white if you wish. While the traditional attire is more appropriate for the youthful bride, there is no particular age limit. It is correctly worn by any bride at her first wedding. If you feel too mature to dress thus, why not wear a full-length pastel dress with matching hat. Gloves are optional but a hat or floral head arrangement is "musts." The groom may preferably wear formal morning clothes at a wedding up to 5 p. m. and dinner clothes (tuxedo) if you wear dinner clothes after 6 p. m.

At this type of wedding, you must not exceed two attendants—a maid-of-honor and a best man—no bridesmaids—ushers only if the size of the church and the number of guests require them. You may have your wedding at any time of day suitable to you and your pastor.

Even though your parents live out of town, they should announce your engagement, issue invitations and announcements. You may send the usual ceremony and reception invitations or those to the ceremony only to out-of-town friends. Or if you prefer, send them announcements only. Announcements, incidentally, should be sent only to those who did not receive invitations.

This is the procedure for a double ring ceremony: The bride must buy the bridegroom's wedding ring and he must buy hers. The maid-of-honor may carry the bridegroom's ring or the bride may carry it herself. In the latter event, she may wear it on her wedding ring finger over her glove or on her little finger. Thus she will be sure to have it when the time comes for making use of it. When you make your wedding arrangements with the clergyman, be sure to tell him that yours will be a double ring ceremony, that he should let you know when, during the ceremony, you should place the groom's ring on his left hand which is usually before the bride has received her ring.

Boy Scouts Pass Board Of Review

Seven Boy Scouts and one committeeman received promotions and awards at the Board of Review held Tuesday evening in the senior high school.

Thomas Sience of troop 15, assisted by P. D. Gibson, Elton Hodson, not associated with any troop, received their advancement to first class scout. Jack Hanna, troop 44, was the only scout to receive his second class rating.

The following scouts received their merit badge awards: Thomas Sience, troop 15; David and Joseph MacKenzie, troop 37; and Jerry Anderson, explorer post. Don McFall, committeeman, received his badge for passing the cooking requirements.

E. L. Gerlach sat as chairman of the board, assisted by P. D. Gibson, Dr. Burr M. Rogers, A. L. Wilson, N. J. McCluskey and D. R. McFall.

MAY NAME GOVERNOR
WASHINGTON, July 24.—(INS)—The White House said today that President Truman in all likelihood would announce his choice for a new governor of Puerto Rico at his regularly weekly news conference at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

While the White House would not indicate the name of the new island governor, it was reliably understood that Jesus T. Pimero, resident commissioner for Puerto Rico, is a likely choice.

WASTED!

He laughs no more. He is no more. His life . . . his happiness . . . needlessly wasted in the tragic toll of traffic accidents.

He is only one of 723 killed . . . 20,312 injured . . . a total of 21,035 humans sacrificed by reckless . . . thoughtless . . . careless . . . driving and walking in the first five months of 1946 in Pennsylvania. Life snuffed out! Happiness blasted! Why? These drivers and pedestrians thought it couldn't happen to them.

It did happen to them! It can happen to YOU, the driver . . . YOU, the pedestrian. And only YOU can stop it by correcting the faults which are the basic causes of traffic tragedies:

When you walk—Be alert for traffic lights, warning signs, passing cars. Don't jaywalk. Look before walking into the roadway. Never walk from behind a parked car.

When you drive—Keep eyes on the road, hands on the wheel, mind on the job. Don't pass on hills or around curves. Don't hog the road. Don't take that drink. Don't speed—It's a gamble of life against time which you are bound to lose.

Drive and walk so that YOUR life and happiness will not be—WASTED.

PENNSYLVANIA WILL PUNISH TRAFFIC VIOLATORS

TO THE FULL EXTENT OF THE LAW, IF AT FAULT IN A TRAFFIC ACCIDENT

YOU FACE LOSS OF YOUR DRIVING PRIVILEGE . . . HEAVY FINES . . . JAIL SENTENCES.

Atomic-Powered Plane Research For Early Autumn

Atomic Energy Plant Already Being Assembled For Project At Oak Ridge, Tenn.

WASHINGTON, July 24.—(INS)—Airplanes powered by atomic energy were scheduled today for development in September.

Scientists and technicians were revealed to be assembling already at the Oak Ridge, Tenn., atomic energy plant for the revolutionary experiment.

Disclosure by sources close to the project that work will start in September followed announcement by Maj. Gen. Curtis E. Lemay that no estimated date can be given for completion of the program.

Lemay, deputy chief of air staff for research and development, disclosed that the Manhattan district code name for the atomic energy project, and all the aircraft industry have tackled the problem.

The general stated that since there must be a single contractor that position is being filled by the Fairchild Engine & Airplane Co., New York.

Lemay said that security requirements prohibit detailed revelations of the plan for using atomic energy for propulsion engines.

Claimed under this security ruling were the questions of cost and number of personnel.

It was revealed in other quarters that contracts have been let for establishment of a school to train personnel for the new atomic energy assignment. Location of this institution was kept secret.

Lemay stressed that atomic-driven planes "are only one of many scientific problems being studied."

Every Greyhound bus is working full time—day and night, every week in the year—to take you where you want to go, when you want to go. Sometimes—week-ends and holidays, for example—there are more people who want to ride than there are seats available. But if you continue to plan your travel wisely, arranging trips in advance . . . getting your tickets early . . . going on midweek days . . . you'll find that buses will serve you best, with most comfort.

One of these days—soon, we hope—Greyhound's great fleet is going to be increased by the welcome addition of hundreds of fine new buses. They're already on order and we're all set to put them at your service just as quickly as they are delivered and ready to roll! When that day comes, you'll enjoy travel pleasure that's a fitting reward for your good-natured cooperation.

National Defense For Atomic Attack

Headquarters Divided Into Six Self-Sufficient Units

WASHINGTON, July 24.—The army, looking forward to the day when a future invader may try to paralyze the nation's defense with a surprise atom bomb attack on high command headquarters, has broken itself up into six self-sufficient units.

Reliable war department sources said the pattern for defense in the atomic age is aimed at combating warfare such as has been envisioned by General H. H. Arnold, wartime chief of the army air forces.

Arnold has said that any future blow against the United States would come by air at supersonic speeds "across the polar regions" and that the aggressor undoubtedly would use atomic bombs "1000 times as destructive" as those exploded over Japan.

The army's reorganized defenses provides six-army units which can function independently if any one or more is knocked out by surprise attack. Each of the six areas will be a complete combat military unit within itself.

The war department is strengthening this setup by placing more and more control in the hands of the commanders of these units. Eventually they will have their own air forces to repel any airborne or seaborne invaders and will be empowered to call into instant defensive action any national guard forces in their areas.

In addition the country will have two other major defense units. One will be a long range strategic bombing force which will stand ever ready to combat any attacker with atomic weapons directed at the enemy's cities and launching sites. The other will be comprised of airborne combat divisions with tanks, rockets and artillery prepared to make a counter invasion of any enemy country.

Louis Granato Hurt As Truck Crashes In Niles

Tractor-Trailer Goes Through Bridge Plankings; Lands In Mahoning River

NILES, O., July 24.—Louis Granato, 29, of R. D. 1, New Castle, is in the St. Joseph hospital of Warren following his accident at the W. Park avenue extension bridge here Tuesday morning.

Granato was driving a huge tractor-trailer truck loaded with sheet metal which crashed through the wooden plankings of the bridge and dropped 40 feet into the waters of the Mahoning river. The driver managed to crawl from the truck cab and wade through five feet of water to the west bank and summon help. He suffered painful abrasions and shock.

Police believe that the New Castle driver got off the regular route as heavy trucks rarely use the bridge on which the mishap occurred. Granato was hauling his load from the Carnegie-Illinois plant at McDonald. The impact of the vehicle ripped nearly 75 feet of the plankings as it crashed through. It is believed that Granato was thrown to the floor otherwise he would have received the force of the windshield which was forced to the seat.

The truck is operated by the Belmont Trucking company of Youngstown.

YELLOW JANDERS

It used to be that when a person's eyes and skin became yellow he was said to have "Yellow Janders". Jaundice or yellow skin is a sign of disease. It is not a disease in itself but may be a symptom of disease.

If a large quantity of carrots are eaten, the skin may turn yellow but the whites of the eyes do not.

Jaundice may be an indication that there is some disease of the liver or an organ near by it.

There are several diseases which cause jaundice. Some of these diseases are contagious and some are not.

Gall stones sometimes cause jaundice by plugging the tubes stopping the flow of bile.

Jaundice should always be investigated to find the cause.

Sometimes if the cause is found, future trouble may be prevented.

What People Say

(International News Service)

BEXLEY, England.—Lieut. Col. J. C. Lockwood, who nearly defeated Laborite in by-election: "The result shows quite clearly that there are already signs the country is tired of socialism and so-called socialistic planning. We'll win next time."

CHICAGO.—C. P. Reynolds, Toledo, president of the Monument Builders of America, decries visitors "celebration" of the nation's most famous statue: "Lipsick drawings and knife carvings have made the Statue of Liberty a national disgrace."

SHANGHAI.—Mme. Sun Yet-Sen, widow of the founder of the Chinese republic: "The American people, long China's friends, must be told that the presence of U. S. troops in China is not strengthening peace and order among the Chinese people."

NEW YORK.—Dr. D. F. Fleming, U. S. delegate on UN atomic energy commission, sees fate of atom bomb control resting largely with forthcoming Paris peace conference: "If the peace settlements tend to split the world into two parts, then the prospects for success in the atomic negotiations will diminish."

Mother Of Local Teacher Dies At Clarion Tuesday

Mrs. Horace Smathers, mother of Thomas Smathers, teacher at the George Washington Junior high school, died at Clarion Tuesday at noon, according to word received in this city by Mrs. Clark G. Snyder, 210 Wallace avenue.

Mrs. Smathers had been ill for some months, and had recently suffered a stroke, which resulted in her death.

Mr. and Mrs. Smathers and family, who reside at Highland Heights, have been in Clarion for the past two weeks, having been called there due to the illness of Mrs. Smathers.

Funeral services for the deceased will be conducted in Clarion Friday afternoon.

One Crew Member Dies After Drinking Methyl Alcohol

ABOARD USS MT. MCKINLEY, Off Bikini, July 24.—(INS)—Capt. Wayne Gamet, skipper of the Mt. McKinley, announced today that one of his crew members died and six others are seriously ill apparently from drinking poisonous methyl alcohol.

The dead sailor was identified as James Richard Reagan, 29, seaman first class, son of Mrs. Ethel Reagan of Homer, N. Y.

Gamet said that Reagan died this morning. The captain declared that preliminary investigation indicated that the seven enlisted men drank methyl alcohol used for a duplicator machine.

Lions Club Sees Film On Lighting

Advancements In Lighting Shown At Noon Luncheon Meeting In The Castleton

New Castle Lions club members had a peek into the future as to what is in store in the field of lighting, when a film, "The Dawn of Better Living," was shown through the courtesy of the Pennsylvania Power company.

The film was shown by Clarence M. England and was accompanied by a talk by Paul G. Dingley, assistant to the vice president and general manager.

New ideas and advancement in the lighting of homes and buildings was depicted.

Calvin L. Rasey of New Castle was a guest of the club.

POISONOUS WEEDS PERIL LIVESTOCK

At this time of year some of the more prevalent poisonous weeds may be making their appearance in pastures where they endanger livestock.

Wild cherry or choke cherry leaves, both common in fence rows and not poisonous as they normally grow, develop dangerous quantities of deadly prussic acid if they happen to wilt, as when the trees or branches are cut or are blown down.

Because these wilted leaves appear to have an attraction for livestock, frequently with fatal results, it is wise to patrol wild cherry fence rows after severe storms to remove any broken branches.

Water hemlock and poison hemlock, both poisonous, are common pasture weeds, especially in wet areas. Livestock is most likely to eat the young plants or the second growth after mowing. Infested areas should be fenced off.

Both hemlocks grow four to six feet high and have flat-top clusters of white blossoms. The poison hemlock is the larger and has very fine leaves somewhat like the carrot, while the leaves of the water hemlock slightly resemble those of a pansy. Both are perennial, which spread from seed.

At least one farm in the county suffered loss from water hemlock this year.

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD
 (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD July 24.—Not even painters and paper hangers can mar the happiness of beautiful Joan Fontaine and her hubby of three months, Producer Bill Dozier.

They've moved into their honeymoon home in Brentwood and it's just what they want.

"It's little hectic with the place being redecorated but it's wonderful getting settled," Joan said. "I've never been so happy."

The academy award star was fairly bubbling over when her reporter went out to see her on the set of "Emperor of the North Pole," her first picture since the elopement and marriage in Mexico City. Your reporter has known Joan for nine years, long before she became one of Hollywood's top stars, and he's never seen her so joyous.

Joan said of her husband: "Just to think he was up there all the time I was working at RKO. Why, he was my boss. I never even had a date with him until one night when we went out to dinner, but that was supposed to be strictly a business engagement."

"Well, that's the way it happened," she said.

Joan is happy, too, about her new picture, with academy award winner Bing Crosby co-starring, and academy award winner Billy Wilder directing.

She had a busy schedule ahead, too. When she completes "Emperor of the North Pole" she's going to take a month off. Then she goes into a picture for RKO.

"After that I'll probably make a picture for my husband over at International," she said.

Her eyes shone and she added: "Won't that be wonderful. I'll love it."

Dorothy Lamour is happy to be back at work again after taking 18 months off for the birth of her son, John Ridgely Howard, now six and a half months old. "The baby's dotting parents call him 'Ridge'."

Dorothy said: "He's at the stage now where he's beginning to take an interest in things. You should see him eat. He weighs 19 pounds. He's not fat, he's solid and he's getting so tall. I'll bet he's going to be a six-footer."

Dorothy is starting a picture with Bob Hope called "My Favorite Brunette". A few years back Bob made a picture with Madeleine Carroll called "My Favorite Blonde".

The Coast Guard's role in aviation, especially in wartime, was vividly demonstrated in 1945 when it made 430 assistance flights, rescued 64 persons, located and directed rescue of over 500 victims of sea disasters, and transported 82 emergency cases.
